

High quality child care looks like

LITERACY.

When you look for child care, look for lots of books. Look for teachers that talk to and read to infants. Look for teachers that tell stories children love. This is quality child care.

Literacy is a process that begins in infancy. The process involves all of your child's care givers.

Your child care provider is an important partner in your child's future. Choose quality child care that helps lead your child to reading and writing.
